The calendar isn't just a list of dates; it's the backbone of financial stability for retirees who rely on a fixed income. By syncing household bills, mortgage payments, and discretionary spending with the pension schedule, you can reduce stress and keep your cash flow smooth. NYCERS typically distributes pension payments quarterly. Each quarter's disbursement arrives on the 15th of the month that follows the quarter's end—so the first payment for the year is usually posted on January 15, covering the prior quarter's earnings. The subsequent payments follow on April 15, July 15, and October 15. On the designated day, the pension amount is deposited directly into the bank account you've registered with NYCERS. If your bank processes transactions on weekends or holidays, the credit may appear on the next business day, but the amount remains unchanged. Pay stubs or electronic statements are
